

IAN ADAMS AWARDED CUBS CERTIFICATION

IMA Marine's Ian Adams has been awarded the widely recognised Cardiff University Bond Solon (CUBS) Certificate, allowing him to be registered as an Expert Witness on the National Register of University Certificated Expert Witnesses.

To achieve this, Adams had to pass three different modules: Excellence in Report Writing; Courtroom Skills/Cross-Examination Day; and Civil Law and Procedure. He will now be listed on the National Register of University Certificated Expert Witnesses.

A CUBS Certificate enables holders to demonstrate to instructing solicitors and the courts that they have the requisite competencies to act as an expert witness. To date over 1,500 experts from a wide variety of professions have completed or are in the process of completing one or more of the three Expert Witness Certificates.

Adams said: "I am very pleased to receive the CUBS Certificate. It will enable IMA Marine to provide a highly accomplished level of reports and courtroom evidence expected of our clients."

Founded in 2011, IMA Marine is a marine consultancy specialising in the provision of training, research and advice relating to the international bunkering sector, specifically bunker disputes. Appointments have included acting as an expert witness in bunker disputes, writing and presenting training courses and consulting on governance and internal procedure issues.

A Fellow of the Institute of Marine Engineering, Science & Technology, Adams worked with P&O Cruises, Deep Sea Seals and Hamworthy prior to his appointment as Secretary-General of The International Bunker Industry Association (IBIA), where he gained wide exposure to international bunker markets and achieved consultative status for IBIA at the International Maritime Organization (IMO). He was also member of the IMO Secretary General's Scientific and Industry Expert Panel during 2007 as part of the revision process of MARPOL Annex VI. And In 2009 he was appointed Chief Executive of IBIA.

Adams is currently Managing Director of IMA Marine and Chief Executive of the Association of Bulk Terminal Operators.
